

TURKISH HAZELNUT SHIPMENT REPORT

April 2025

Seasonal

New prices are not yet reflected in this month's report due to very low sales at the latest prices, and most of the shipments were from earlier contracts. Next month, we may see some slight changes in the average prices. More importantly, we should follow the number of shipments compared to the last two seasons and any significant deviations from the previous two seasons. We also expect the new sales price from the TMO for their remaining stock from the 2022 crop in May. For the one joining, we look forward to meeting you at the INC Congress in Mallorca.
