

TURKISH HAZELNUT WEEKLY SHIPMENT REPORT

Weekly

Seasonal

Better export volume for the last week. It is higher than 2025 same week, but that is because of the Ramadan holiday in that week in 2025. As you can see, it is still less than the same week in 2024. We expect to an increase in the export volumes as the current levels are attracting some delayed demand. The weather is rainy and some snowing expected over 1000 mt altitude. No report for the frost, but as usual market will be more cautious in those days till 12th of April.
