May 2026

Seasonal

Exports are going at the same speed, and there have been more sales in the last 2 months, compared to previous months. This is mainly due to much better levels in the market, and now in-shell prices are even lower than TMO prices given last Sept. Considering the current level of inflation in Turkiye ( 32 % official) levels are attractive for many who are not covered long-term.

New crop progressing well; BMSB and summer heat will have to be closely monitored. We hope to have objective crop forecast by 2nd H July.
